Crawled night and day through the tears and debris
Now I'm reaching out to you but I'm keeping my hands clean

The tables are turning, the tempo slows down
We're gettin' off this misery-go-round

Brand new world baby, now things have changed
It's a brand new picture in a brand new frame
A turn of the page with a blink of your eye
Our two steps in rhythm, our hearts beatin' time

On the inside, it all happened on the inside
It all went down on the inside

Critical moment, I know you'd agree
Both of us separate but neither one free
We traded our papers for new walking shoes
But I had no idea, how I'd feel without you

Watched it unravel, we heard it unwind
Imprisoned by anger, embittered by time
No one could tell me we'd be standing here today
Steeled by the fire and sealed by the pain

On the inside, it all happened on the inside
It all went down on the inside

I'm holding on to you and I know you're holding on to me too
We gave it one more chance and found the key to romance

None of it happens like we think it should be It'd all be disaster if left up to me
By the power of love and protection divine
We found, we held hands through the darkness and then there was light

On the inside, it all happened on the inside
It all went down on the inside
It all happened on the inside
It all went down on the inside
