She, she said to me remember when the sunshine left
us clean

Oh, she wants to know do you remember letting go
We let the hour come and steal away the light...

Oh, my frail will takes along another chance to kill Hatred in your hand couldn't I have been a simple man
We let the hour come steal away the light
And then it kicked my sober face into the night

She, she said to me remember when the sunshine left
us clean

We let the hour come steal away the light

And then it kicked my sober face into the night

Oh woe am I come wash away my sin

And let me open up this door against the wind
