Quietly I drown myself in dreams
To find it all I've taken liberty to fall asleep
Wanting everything

If you awake to find it's all the same
I'll try again
I swear I'll try again to fall asleep
Wanting everything
Just to be completely free

At least believe there's something else this time
You know you'll find me here asleep under this spell
Who'll notice?
I'm wondering myself

Now you gaze between love and despair
It's hard to see a look become a prayer to fall asleep
Wanting everything
Just to be completely free

At least believe there's something else this time
You know you'll find me here asleep under this spell
Who'll notice?
I'm wondering myself

All at once it occurred to me:
It's the way that I'll ever be
Well never mind
What I meant to say was along the lines of making you stay
And I whisper this as you walk away
"At least believe in me"

At least believe there's something else this time
You know you'll find me here asleep under this spell
Who'll notice?
I'm wondering myself
