He appeared in hawk eyes
a soul farmer with a cool smile
Just by his boots you could say that
He was heavy
So heavy that he could chain
A whale to his mane

He was a man of the wind
He had stopped to listen in
Some say he started the whisper that
People are ready
So ready that they could Change the world if they'd

Get Down
Brother get down
Fell the beat come on to you

And hold on
Just see what I see
Livin like me
The Guru

The room was filled with electricity
He tethered high, so he had to leave
The lights went dim
But not me
I was heavy
So heavy that
All my body could do was

Get Down
Brother get down
Fell the beat come on to you

And hold on
Just see what I see
Livin like me
The Guru
