

Rosemary Gates "Innocence"

Visit "Innocence" on MotoLyrics.com

(Verse)

She grew up in the wrong part of town
Life is rough it always gets me down
Mom left dad when she was just three Still hasn't decided where she wants to be

(Chorus)

What can she do, there's so much pain
She searches for love wherever she can
What can she do, there's so much pain
She searches for love wherever she can

(Verse)

Got her first job at age thirteen
Has to help her pop, where could he be Bills are overdue, he'll be in a rage, she said
Daddy don't hit me, she pleads him again

(Chorus)

Oh, what can she do, there's so much pain
She searches for love wherever she can
What can she do, there's so much pain
She searches for love wherever she can

(Interlude)

(Bridge)

You think you're so experienced, you think you've seen it all
You think you're no good now, but that's not at all
Underneath the confusion, underneath the pain
There lies a little girl, her innocence retained

(Chorus 2)

No matter what they do or what they say
Nothing takes that innocence away
No matter what they do or what they say
Nothing takes that innocence away

Visit Rosemary Gates page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

