The night sheds it's cold mist on luminous streets
The revenge that you seek will all come back to you
Do you know what you've done?
No justice was won, exalted will be who were trampled upon

There will come a time when judgment is near
The black cloud above you is clear
Love for your enemies, forgiveness you must Instead you want locusts and plagues

A better world we can build for us all
The simple factor is life
Search for the answer it's inside of you
Your heart should anchor the rest

Evil eye
Evil minds

Now Armageddon is bringing you down to you knees
Fighting the ways of the truth there's no way to win
Hypocrisy festers in those who believe but deceived
What you do unto others, others will do unto you

Accepting my paybacks how long will it take
To show my intention was real
This world that we walk in is full of mistreaters
Who strip your heart, mind and soul

Your lust for revenge selfishness right
You're doing it all of spite
The things that are taken without just full reasons
Will someday come back to me

Evil eye

Your lust for revenge selfishness right
You're doing it all out of spite
The things that are taken without just full reasons
Will someday come back to me

Evil eye

Evil minds
