Our time keeps us measured
Not enough of the gifts we treasure
Can't stop we keep pushing forward
Stare straight through the future

Constant therefore unnerving
A secret worth preserving
Eyes shut, won't end the madness
Or guarantee survival

Time, time
(Shut)
Mouth shut but the words keep coming
Eyes shut, yet we still march forward
Headlong into infinity

What lives beyond our vision
In this the eternal question
Though men claim to have the answer
I'm not sure of heaven

So trust what I see before me
Believe what is proven to me
Skies filled with our fathers watching
Waiting just beyond our time

Time, time
(Shut)
Mouth shut but the words keep coming
Eyes shut, yet we still march forward
Headlong into Infinity

Into infinity
Into infinity
Into infinity

When time no longer exists
When truth won't let you resist
When Gods are revealed unto you
Embrace them and call them father

Knowledge may be cruel and cold than

Better than your ignorance
Nothing can prepare you for your journey
Into infinity

Into infinity
Into infinity
Into infinity
