Today there is no wake up call We're on the bus heading for the hall

Another town And the kids will be around Together we will rock it to the ground

I see the people from the front to the back We shut the lights and raise for the attack

Let's play it loud And knock the neighbours out That's what Rock'n'Roll is all about

Back in the day When Chuck told us how to play Who'd have guessed that it will make it through? Here's to you: May the gods be with you

Here's one for you who keep the faith To our friends around the world who share our way

And for those who left too soon We'll have a drink on vou You'll live on in the memories of the true

Back in the day When Chuck told us how to play Who'd have guessed that it will make it through? Here's to you: May the gods be with you

[Solo: RTB]

Back in the day When Chuck told us how to play Who'd have guessed that it will make it through? Just look around We all were raised on that sound It's what we live and feel, we won't withdrew Here's to you: May the gods be with you
