I see you
From afar your flowing grace
You move so slow
I can't seem to get control
Stars shine bright, the waves crash in
I might mistake the state I'm in
And I'm faded fast

Then I see you
And I slowly drift away
One more take
And back again

Let me take you where the moonlights shining
Where our worries slowly start unwinding
We'll go off and see the stars uniting
And the night goes on

Coastal Breeze
Lifts me off the sandy ground
While fire keeps moving with exotic hues
My hood tied tight my drink down low
Stay real quiet so no one knows
What's on my mind

Then I see you
And I slowly drift away
One more take
And back again

Let me take you where the moonlights shining
Where our worries slowly start unwinding
We'll go off and see the stars uniting
And the night goes on
