Girl stands at her window
While fleets of ships and angels float by Heavy footsteps lead her down the hall and to the edge
She says she'll jump before she learns to fly

She dreams only in black and white
A rose and a crow are the same in her mind
Thoughts of self destruction brings her to her knees
What happens when you try to find eternity?

Where did she come from?
Her heart and soul are not as one
She's got no love only disguise
SHE SPARKLES STARLIGHT IN HER EYES

White fades to grey
Tell me tell me can you, find the words to say
When white fades to grey
Tell me tell me wont you, find the words to say

She stands at a crossroad
She stares down streets that are seemingly bare
New life comes from wiping dark tears off her eyes
Wherever she turns now there's nowhere left to hide

Where did she come from?
Her heart and soul are not as one
NO love; ONLY disguise

White fades to grey
Tell me tell me can you, find the words to say
When white fades to grey
Tell me tell me wont you, find the words to say
