Those eyes burn holes
Into the starry night
And when her sleepy eyes
Are open wide
You can fairly dance beneath her light
And I'd love to get to know the natives
But I'm only flesh and blood
She'll share your joys
But not your sorrows
Mistress of the coming flood.
Hina
Cool upon the silent sea
Isn't she the moon queen
Hina
Whispering, In my dreams
You must come back to me
And the tides rise and a distant sigh
Falls on deaf ears
Her vision makes you every inch a king
King for a million years
And she loves you when you're leavin'

And she'll leave you if you stay

She says...

"Don't tell me that you love me

You'll hate me for hearing it

When I drift away."

Hina

I can hear you softly cry

Your storms and lullabies

Hina

I'll whisper in your dreams

Till you come back to me.

Come back

But she will never stay

Come back

And you must never wait...,

Never wait. Never wait. Never wait
