Don't laugh, dear, suffering eyes are closing at twilight

As the sun is dying someone is crying

Cursed existences, contamination of white

But why? Cursed existences

Drown in tears...

I can't breathe so I

Drown in pain...

Don't smile, dear, suffering cries are weeping this twilight

Desperate souls, love is no more

Drown in tears...

I can't swim so I

Drown in pain...

The mystery of the universe, the secrets of the stars

Seem to be hidden behind a teary mask,

A dimension built in sorrow, tragedy, and pain,

A crying child's lament is the sound of this reignÃ,...

Save me, from this perpetual punishment

Don't leave me...

Like burning flames my hate loud will rise again

I'll try to scream, I know there will be not ears for meÃ,...

Pearls in my hands, these tears wet this land

Discolouring all I see, the world is black, black, black

Mother, here's your son

I would ask you a question, my queen

As you know, majesty, they're crying now

I wonder why and how

Stop it now please, take my life, if you want,

Or take my dreams, but no more, no more tears my queen

What's your answer, please your answer...

Don't laugh, dear, suffering eyes are dead at twilight
