Keep on living with your positive views
You're hiding from the problem 'cause you can't face the truth
I'm not gonna trick myself I know life isn't fair
Keep up the act, you're blind to what's there

You're never gonna make it with your positive views
You're never gonna make it with your positive views
You're never gonna make it with your positive views
You're never gonna make it with those fucked up views

You're wasting your time believing your lies
An ignorant trait you hold by your side
It's a common excuse to hide from the pain
I know the truth and I'm not ashamed

You're never gonna make it with your positive views
You're never gonna make it with your positive views
You're never gonna make it with your positive views
You're never gonna make it with those fucked up views

Fuck you!
