What am I gonna do when I get a little excited,
a little in vain, tell me baby.
What am I gonna say when I find the centre of my heart
is a suburb to the brain?

You wear them so well, those innocent eyes
You're puttin on a wonderful disguise.
I want you so bad. I'm pushin my luck
It feels like being hit by a truck.
This is no place special. Don't no why I came.
If someone has a minute, won't you explain

What am I gonna do when I get a little excited,
a liottle in vain, tell me
What am I gonna say when I find the centre of my heart
is a suburb to the brain?
Singing
nananananana
Being with you, dealing with fire
Oh, won't you come around (come out) come out (today) and play
(I want you so bad)
Answer my calls

Let's spend the night within these walls
This is no place
