The sky was clear, it was a beautiful day
The King arrived in such a glamorous way
Women ravin' wavin' hands in the air
Men were cheerin', children started to stare

The King he said he was the luckiest guy
He finally had made it to the European side
Then the orchestra got ready to play
Another song from the Glorious Days

Oh boy, did he look good in green!
Oh boy, did he did he look good in green!
Oh boy!

Hey! Let's Celebrate!
The nation's joinin' in (I'll tell you all about it)
Hey! Let's party on!
The whole world's joinin' in

These were the days of peace in our hearts
No Major Tom was to be seen in the charts
No Sgt Pepper was found in your home
Just Colonel Parker countin' money alone

The King he sad he was a fortunate guy
Then he smiled and made every girl cry
Cos they all knew that this was the end
That things would never be quite the same again

Oh boy, did he look good in green!
Oh boy, did he did he look good in green!
Oh boy!

Hey! Let's Celebrate!
The nation's joinin' in (I'll tell you all about it)
Hey! Let's party on!
The whole world's joinin' in
With Elvis
