Chorus

Shadows on the floor
Are telling the story
She seems to know
That she's not in control
While we stand back
And watch it unfold

She's just a girl
Someone I've seen
She thinks she's alone
No one seems to care
That she's fighting this battle
With no one on her side

(CHORUS)

She's crying tonight
Hoping someone will hear
The pain in her heart
Is becoming too much
There isn't anything anymore
That can fix her now

(CHORUS)

Rain is falling now
On this slow black parade
People gather to wonder
Why it took so long to act
And take into mind
The problem that was seen

Shadows in our hearts
Tell of the story
No one seems to know
Why she lost control
And took her own life
When her heart turned cold
