If you're trying to break my heart
You don't have very far to go.

You always find the way to hurt my pride
If I'm not crying you're not satisfied
You can't love me and still want to hurt me so If you're trying to break my heart you don't have very far to go.

You don't have very far to go before the heartaches begin Cause I already feel the sadness of a heartbreak setting in You're turning down the flame of love too low If you're trying to break my heart you don't have very
far to go.

If you're trying to break my heart you don't have very far to go...
