Time marches on,
Mountains may turn to dust.
The world outside may crumble and fall.
This love that we share
Will be touched by the hands of time.
It will last till the sands of time
Have withered away.

Time marches on,
Oceans may disappear.
But my love for you won't ever fade.
Though time may go, our love will grow,
And last from day to day.
While time marches on,
Our love is here to stay.

Oh, time may go, our love will grow
And last from day to day.
While time marches on, our love is here,
Our love is here to stay.
