Baby's gone away, baby's gone away
Baby's gone away and left me lonely
Didn't say goodbye, didn't tell me why
Just left me here to stay

The pain I feel inside is more than I can hide
I need her by my side, oh where can baby be
Won't somebody please bring her back to me
And She'll never be lonely again

A funny photograph that made all the gang laugh
Two tickets torn in half are only reminders
A ribbon from her hair, her little teddy bear
They're just waiting there for me to find her

I miss her so tonite, I long to hold her tight
I hope that she's alright, oh where can baby be?
Won't somebody please bring her back to me
And she'll never be lonely again
