

Roy Orbison

"California Sunshine Woman"

Visit "California Sunshine Woman" on MotoLyrics.com

California woman
Hanging heavy on my mind
Never found another like her
Guess she was just one of a kind

She never wrapped no strings around me
She could treat a man so fine
I still see her golden hair
And the California sunshine

Mississippi rain falling on my head
No California woman sleeping in my bed
Makes me wanna move on, leave all this behind
I need my California woman and the California
sunshine

Golden California beaches
Knocking on a beach house door

They say that California woman
She don't live here anymore

They say she left with a stranger
Leaving nothing left behind
She buried all my dreams here
In the California sunshine

Mississippi rain falling on my head
No California woman sleeping in my bed
Makes me wanna move on, leave all this behind
I need my California woman and the California
sunshine
I need my California woman and the California
sunshine

Visit Roy Orbison page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.