We once were up close now we couldn't be farther apart

From better to worse there's two separate worlds
Where there used to be one heart
When love finally finished and feelings diminished
It was sad to watch how we'd changed
From lover to lover just holdin' each other to blame

From lover to lover where did the caring go
Now pictures in a photo album are all that we've got to show
From cover to cover the beginning to the end
From lover to lover to not even being friends

But life goes on and we only get one time around
It's been too long to know who was wrong
And I guess it don't matter now
From her man and his woman to nothin' in common
Except in our last names
From lover to lover just holdin' each other to blame

From lover to lover where did the caring go
Now pictures in a photo album are all that we've got to
From cover to cover the beginning to the end, oh no
From lover to lover to not even being friends
We went from lover to lover to not even being friends
