Remember back, to the crisp entrance of fall
We watched the summer storm as I walked you home
You stared at me so shy and coy, I stared at you as just a boy
You said, I can't fall in love again

Lauri dear, I must insist
I cannot resist to tempt your innocence
And Lauri, if you're feeling down
I'll still be around, cause through it all I've found
I still love you

Looking back, what a fool I must have been
When we were young, to ever let you go
So many nights I lie awake, I twist and turn until I shake
And I said, she will fall in love again
