You gotta give me a break
You gotta give me a chance to figure out
What to do with myself
So for now, just mellow out
Please try to see this my way
There really ain't no need for fight or fuss
So if you've gotta complain
Go and do it to someone else

Cause I don't know what makes you deal with things this way
And I don't know who taught you, this is how we get our way
So for now, I'll pray, I'm not your main concern
Because you'll never learn

You really got to relax
I've got a therapist I could recommend
So get a hold of yourself
Because we just can't comprehend

What makes you deal with things this way?
And I don't know who taught you, this is how we get our
way
So for now, I'll pray, I'm not your main concern
Because you'll never learn
