Once upon a time I knew everything
When I stop to think back on everything
It all runs away like a memory
Once there was a picture of a happy place
But I always keep thinking what a great place to leave

I'd trade it all
To have you all here with me

Father, when you coming by?
Mother, leave the light on again
Sister with someone somewhere, somewhere
Brother, brother, brother

Trailer park heaven was a dream to me
'Cause we had it figured out
Simple and not jaded

There was a promise of a brighter day
But soon it would all fade out

I'd trade it all
To have you all here with me

Father, when you coming by?
Mother, leave the light on again
Sister with someone somewhere, somewhere
Brother, brother, brother

When it's something we love that keeps us away
Well it costs even more
And its so much to pay
To have you all here with me

Father, when you coming by?
Mother, leave the light on again
Sister with someone somewhere somewhere
Brother, brother, brother
Brother, brother, brother
Brother, brother brother
