If you made up your mind,
You're telling him goodbye today
You better take a minute
Before you throw it all away

Search your heart,
See he's been there by your side
He could be gone long
Before you realize that he was the one
The one you find just once in a lifetime

So hold on tonight
Cause you never love the same way twice
Once it's gone it's gone for life
And you never love the same way twice
Don't be so quick to throw away
The love you're gonna miss someday
Hold on baby hold on

Cast it all to the wind
If everything you had was a lie,
More power to you

Go do what you want with your life
You might find in some other place and time
No matter what you try
You still can't get him of your mind

So hold on tonight
Cause you never love the same way twice
Once it's gone it's gone for life
And you never love the same way twice
Don't be so quick to throw away
The love you're gonna miss someday
Hold on baby hold on

You might search the whole world over
Spending your life looking over your shoulder
You might try to recreate
The love that can never be repolished

So hold on tonight

Cause you never love the same way twice
Once it's gone it's gone for life
And you never love the same way twice
Don't be so quick to throw away
The love you're gonna miss someday
Hold on baby hold on
