Leading me through all the way back home
Breaking with the self I was before
Now that times have changed
My memories are old, much too old

Sitting here, watching the river flow
If only you and I could say hello
Listening to the sound of silence
But you don't hear it anymore

You should have told me that it got too rough
I gave you everything but maybe everything was not enough

All I have seen - I can't tell you anymore
All I have been - so many things that we don't know
Caught in the tide of time
If only one last wish was left
Everyone should reap what he has sown

The flowing water takes my soul away
A last farewell with nothing more to say
But behind the rippling waves I will Become part of the river once again

So it's time for me to go back on my own
My new self joins the unity and keeps the river flow
This is not the right time
Our path will cross and we will meet again

You should have told me that it got too rough
You asked for everything but maybe everything was not enough

All I have seen.....

All divine and multicoloured in many different ways
Enthralled to see the other side
I'm aware of all the beauty - from now on

All life reflected in the water, full of light
Moving gently far away

All this light will still surround me - from now on

All divine and multicoloured in many different ways
Enthralled to see the other side
I'm aware of all the beauty - from now

On all life reflected in the water, full of light
Moving gently far away
