Lyrics: Hertrich

Leaves by night and day

Webs with color grey

But she still delights mirrors magic sights

Whn the moon was overhead

The red-crossed knight forever kneeled like the branch of stars we see

She loosed the chain, down she lay

The broad stream brought her far away

I am a part of all she met

Rivers drowning lands

Gleams untravelling hands

Wandering if I might from morn to night

'cause I grew both deaf and blind

Damned to win, unskilled to find

Dark sheres no ship's ever seen

The leaves upon her falling light ere she reached upon the tide

Singing in her song she died

Hold me - to reach heaven from hell

Leave me - from cold eyes farewell

Hold me - in sounds royal cheer

Leave me - leave my palace here

When we fall, when we fall below cold thunder's upper deep

When we fall, when we fall

her eyes so hard beneath the sea

When we fall, when we fall

subdue me to the useful good

When we fall, when we fall

to drown in sadness brotherhood
