in a maze of feelings
i lost myself
my colored window
now piece of broken glass
i can't stand it anymore but i always do
how much more i'll have to give?

life's a neverending story of disappointment
hunger yearns, greed is turning
good to bad

i wish so much to tell
but noone hears
i'm always wondering
how much more all take from me taking this, taking that again and again
simple hated life
nothing will remain

let me be
when will i be free?
crumbling walls i wanna see i am sick of useless stories now it's time for me to worry worry about me
