

Rufus Wainwright "Beautymark"

I never had it, I never wanted it, I never had your Beauty mark
Nor did I have your black hair and hazel eyes
My early childhood was not as simple as yours set in the country
No I did not have a fears of nuns who dressed in black
But I do have your tastes
I had no radio show, nor did I have Home-made clothes, home-made curtains
Of the same material
I never had it, I never wanted it, I never had your
Beauty mark

But I do have your tastes
And I do have your red face and long hands
I think Callas sang a lovely "Norma"
You prefer Robson in "Deep River"
I may not be so manly, but still I know you love me
Even if I don't have your Beauty mark!
