

Dark Side Cowboys "Believe"

Visit "Believe" on MotoLyrics.com

I stand alone again, deceived by a friend
The way that things remain, they never stay the same
Never in control, falling down the hole
Chaos all around, not a loving soul

I build it up so you can tear it down
Spread the pieces round, playing lost and found
We're under pressure, need to be released
Locked outside your door, screaming out for more

Believe - it's the last thing we hear
Believe - I have lost my faith, lost my will to Believe - will you give me what I need
Believe - how come I cannot believe

Things has to end so they can start again
Cannot comprehend, I cannot maintain
People come and go, change the world we know
Yor choise is to stay low or to go with the flow

You build it up so I can tare it down
Spread the pieces round, playing lost and found
We're under pressure, need to be released
Locked outside your door, screaming out for more

I stand alone again, deceived by a friend
The way that things remain, they never stay the same
Never in control, falling down the hole
Chaos all around me
