It's not my fault what you did with your life
It's not my fault that your dreams died with addiction
This was never about who was better than who
But I got out and you never changed.
But fuck that town it gets the best of The young, hopeful, bright eyed, lonesome, daring, fearless,
Fucked up... they ant going no where.
Still begging for a chance but lacking motivation
Still searching for a reason for being born
Some would say the few, the proud, the worthless
But this ones for the blind from broken homes
Remember when
Remember when
You said, you did
Anything any thing
That fucking
Mattered
