So let's set this straight girl cause you know that I'm Right,
You come crawling back every time.
But I am not like boy's who'll I stand at the sidelines,
To watch you kiss away three years of my life,
You can't tell me it's in the bag, there's no game plan in sight,
So tell me now, are you in or out? I guess that time will tell...

And we
Only want to serenade this time
Lets break
And bring you down to nothing cause that's our aim,
We're the kids of yesterday who'll break your dreams,
So set your sights just to bring this back around,
Honey "Take one for the team"

Place your hand in mine so tightly, your hand in mine so tightly.

Pick yourself up we're back to square one,
Hit or miss is all she wanted,
So boy; swallow your pride,
This one's for history books, dirty glances and looks,
The "greatest comeback" of the century,
We'll see this through until the bitter end,
Show them what a rookie can be.
