Packing up these memories,
The good before the bad,
Making waves is taking chances to keep this alive
For tonight
We believe this isn't past the point of no regret Regress to what we know, we know.

From the bottom of your lungs:
"It's nothing more than jumping on the band wagon with us"

You left me lying with my best intentions set for the summer,
Breaking the promises you made,
These doors you closed "you'll never make it",
To break them down seemed overrated,
Now we wait.
For the second coming,
Cause this time it's ours to claim,
We gave it all we got to get this started,
So don't forget my name
Don't forget my name.

Seal these words inside your lips to keep me on my toes
