

Rumour Has It "Waiting On The World"

Visit "Waiting On The World" on MotoLyrics.com

While everyone is sleeping in,
I've been questioning my relevance,
To your life,
Oh to be a part of it, this abandoned puzzle would get it's fix,
And it's beauty could ignite this burned out smile,

And I've been waiting on the world, to toss me a life line,
Because I'm powerless,
And it's getting to me now,
I gave a good fight,
Even you should be proud,
But I'm down out for the count

Ideas flowing thick and fast,
To steal your attention and put right the past,
For a lesser hurt you could re kindle,
This smouldering mound where we once spent,
The best years of our lives so far,
I always smile when I see our mark,
And "Johns Street" walls will portray our greatest tale,

Let's pack our bags and leave,
Revive old memories
We will treat this world as our own

Visit Rumour Has It page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.