I call your name, I hear nothing
Pray for release in due time
No shade of doubt
The last days have come

And all the lords in heaven
This time it's for real
And all the lords in heaven
This time it's for real

You never judge or picking sides
Given jobs telling lies
There's something wrong
All empty words

I have seen my destiny
I am the lamb to be slain
In the hell of flat stereotypes

All too blind to see
All do deaf to hear
All do dumb to understand

I found them working
On their knees
Put aside
The selection
A silent move
You have no choice

I have seen everything
I will tell everyone
Step aside and stand in line
