Music: Sundin, Johansson

Words: Stanne

With each dancing new concept creation and form

one fragment of shelter from heaven be torn

The bleeding through barriers shine of redemption

The taste of renewal

let art once again be a weapon

The whim of the forger is that from the flow the hatchet now redden with creation's blood

Constant is forever

I am the creation

so bold in design

The errors of thousand minds bleed out through a world gone blind

This is the magic that a name would stain.
