Unless another wall is breaking Nothing can come of this elusive Against our better judgement (allow) our image to stand ground turn around and

Break the path and let's get going to the place where nobody ever goes
Break the path and let's get going
to the place where nobody ever goes,
nobody ever goes

With ideals as infestations hinder the radical mind retune our aim Now it's time for hiding for it stabs fear in you so coward

Break the path and let's get going
to the place where nobody ever goes
Break the path and let's get going
to the place where nobody ever goes,
nobody ever goes

A thought to infect you, an idea to perfect you

A flesh to restrain you, no heart to forgive you

The poison well
I dried

Break the path and let's get going
to the place where nobody ever goes
Break the path and let's get going
to the place where nobody ever goes,
nobody ever goes
