Kono sekai no katasumi de

From an insignificant encounter It went on beginning
Alone, again a visit alone
That became a story

You were hurt to understand
The strength of tears Someday Certainly

I wonder whom you shall go out to defend
Perhaps without thought
I wonder whom you shall go out to meet
At a corner of this world

I thought I wanted to be strong
You told me
"But you're not alone"

At the far side of the smile when you turn your face
The spreading skies Someday Certainly

I wonder whom you shall go out to believe
Perhaps I think you'd like to love
No matter how far away you are
You're place shall always be here

Even if the winds take away the footprints Even if time passes
Certainly Certainly I shall not forget

I wonder whom you shall go out to defend
Perhaps without I thought
I wonder whom you shall go out to meet
At a corner of this world

I wonder whom you shall go out to believe
Perhaps I think you'd like to love
No matter how far away you are
You're place shall always be here

I wonder whom you shall go out to defend
Perhaps without I thought
I wonder whom you shall go out to meet
At a corner of this world
