"Halleluiah"

I hear the distant echo of wild beasts
In the depths of the night I smile and spill the beans about my sins

This bloodthirsty justice

The rusty rain cleanses my dirty body
The ashes of death fall on this town decorated by its many mistakes

Demons sidle up sweetly Laughing in the hole in my heart

The angels are falling into depravity

The forbidden high that replaces the holy wings
The swirling lust picks up speed and the town falls further

Oh halleluiah, wash it all away

The rusty rain cleanses my dirty body
The ashes of death fall on this town decorated by its
many mistakes

The swirling lust picks up speed and the town falls

The rusty rain cleanses my dirty body
The ashes of death fall on this town decorated by its
many mistakes
