"Make You Smile"

Is this another reason, to doubt yourself Just like you always do at times like these when we're here
Are you following the seasons, turning me inside out Just like you always do at times like these when your near

I can't describe my feelings, I'm sure you know my name
Better now that my sleeve has beared all my hearts frames
Are you listening here without me, to the words you know they'll say
From a distance I see you leave with lost expressions on your face

I can't bring you everything but, let me make you smile
So slowly now, take my hand girl Promise to stay awhile

I wish I could read your mind, do you care if I'm ok
To walk away again as this place turns into the same Days of just not knowing, at times I just don't care I'd rather be here in doubt then left without the smile that you wear
