Many times I lost my hope
Forgot the reason why I started searching
I couldn't remember all my dreams
Couldn't see the beauty surrounding me

Take another deep breath
Don't look down, keep your eyes closed
Let your dream completely take over
I know that I would never fall
I haven't come this far to quit right now
To give up here and now

Chorus:

I will give it one more try
Try to get closer to the sky
The time hasn't come for me to leave this place
How can I surrender here when my vision is so clear
I just have to reach, reach a little longer.

Passing through life with no faith
Unaware of the world around
Tried to recall why I came
Tried to remember why I'm here.

So take another deep breath...
Don't look down, keep your eyes closed
Let your dream completely take over
I know that I would never fall
I haven't come this far to quit right now
To give up here and now

I will give it one more try
Try to get closer to the sky
The time hasn't come for me to leave this place
How can I surrender here when my vision is so clear
I just have to reach, reach a little longer.

Many times I lost my hope
Forgot the reason why I started searching

I will give it one more try
Try to get closer to the sky

The time hasn't come for me to leave this place
I will not surrender here when my vision is so clear
I just have to reach, reach a little longer.
