No one here to save you now
No one here to guard your soul
Only emptiness ahead
Waiting for your fear to win

But there is someone who remembers you
Someone waiting for a sign that leads the way to you
Someone who will die for you
Keep that in mind, when the hope fails

Chorus:
When the world starts to cry
A life around you slowly dies
The forgotten ones will see
How you seek, how you try
To save an undone life from pain
The forgotten ones will know

No one here to wipe your tears
No one here to ease your belief
Only empty darkness ahead
Waiting for the hope to leave

But there is someone who remembers you
Someone waiting for a sign that leads the way to you
There is someone who will die for you
Keep that in mind, when the hope fails

Chorus
