You said your going to get drunk tonight
Well, i could have told you that much girl
Your are going to go out with the boys tonight
Well, i already know
And you said your not better for them then for any other guy
Just because they play football and drink and drive
Well, i hope you crash and die

[Chorus]

Stupid, silly silly jock
Why can't you realize
That girls are not just objects or sex figures in your eyes
If i see you with that boy tonight
Just give me a call
And i'll find another band-aid
Just a band-aid for my soul

Said your going to get better
I could have told you that much girl
Going to quit all your bad ways
Well, you already know
And you said "maybe someone will like me just for my mind
Not because of my body or my money or anything at all"

[Chorus]

Stupid, silly silly jock
Why can't you realize
That maybe someone somewhere will just recognize
If i see you with that boy tonight
Just give me a call
And i'll find another band-aid
Just A band-aid for my soul

And i need a band-aid for my soul
Just a band-aid for my soul
And i need a band-aid for my soul
Just a band-aid for my soul
