There is something about the way that i am feeling tonight,
To make me think that you're not there
Maybe it is the way you are looking at me,
With that more then grateful stare
What to say to you,
If you only knew what was going through my mind
Sometimes it makes me wonder just what you're thinking
Could you be so damn unkind?
You know i'm caught between
And you know just what i mean
Cause i'm standing on my own
You know i'm set to go
And i have a rock and roll show
Now i'm writing on the door
Something about the air in these summer nights,
Brings those old feelings back again
I know you would and i know you could,
Make me feel like i did then
What to say to you,
If you only knew what was going through my mind
Sometimes it makes me wonder just what you're
thinking
How could you be so damn unkind?
You read between the lines
And you know that i'm just fine
But i think i'm in despair
Like you never cheated
It was always you and me
And now i'm wishing you were in my bed
Let's go
I will, i will live
I will, i will live
I will, i will live
I will, i will live
