she lays awake at night this ain't the way she wants it it hurts so bad she cries herself to sleep she can't have the body of a model she wants it because she reads it in the magazines

[Chorus]

analog boy in a digital world don't be so digital
turn off your radio we're so helpless to our technology i don't want to be controlled by machines
turn off your radio

our parents wonder why kids are growing up so fast conform, believe anything on tv buy your identity soon and let the channel change you

[Chorus]

i couldn't believe my eyes when i woke up this morning i looked at the sidewalk and there was a million people dressed the same who answered their cell phones at the same time and all popped a pill for the same disorder can't be fat, no we can't have that we're so far gone don't you see that we're so far gone

[Chorus]

well i'm giving up gonna do it right this time
