"Rain"

This rain is never ending this rain will bring the flood this rain is deep within me it swells 'till there's not enough room inside for the lies I live the pain I give or receive it seems it's rained for so long now there's too much water to breathe how deep is this canyon how far must I go to find the answers what'll I do when I know there's no joy in ending no redemption for me no way to defend this

I have sowed what I reaped
