This is a call to all of those that I've been missin'
This is a call to all of those I used to know
I get so jaded and my blood begins to thicken
Down so low
Let it go
And somewhere in the night I find a place and listen
I've seen the faces fading as the years go by
The search for answers still lives on but I can't grip them
Still I try
I don't know why
Now I know I've been right here before
But I call on yesterday
Aint no clouds in the sky
Still I can smell the rain
I don't know why the darkness comes
I don't know why it's in my blood
You see dawn and I see dusk
I was raised by wolves
I don't know why the darkness comes
I don't know why it's in my blood
You see dawn and I see dusk
I was raised by wolves
And so the road is long
And filled with many questions
I look ahead with open arms to the unknown
This is the time
This is the place for us to listen
Let them know
Let them know
Now I know I've been right here before
But I call on yesterday
Aint no clouds in the sky
Still I can smell the rain
I don't know why the darkness comes
I don't know why it's in my blood
You see dawn and I see dusk
I was raised by wolves
I don't know why the darkness comes
I don't know why it's in my blood
You see dawn and I see dusk

I was raised by wolves
