Break The Radio
(Written by Gary Burr / Reid Nielsen)

There are songs that bring back memories
That's what good songs do
I remember this one playing
On the night that I met you
You sang it to me in the moonlight
No voice ever sounded that way
Yes the melody that we danced to
Haunts me to this day

Chorus:

I hear it in the street, I hear it in the car
It's on every button that I've pushed so far
I can't turn it off, I can't walk away
The next time I hear that song play
I'm gonna do what I should've done long ago
Whoa, I'm gonna break the radio
It takes a lot to make me angry
I've never been a violent man
But I'm gonna start carrying a hammer
And keeping it close at hand
If silence really is golden
I don't need an on/off switch
No this ball peen hammer I'm a holdin'
Is about to make me rich

Chorus:

I hear it in the street, I hear it in the car
It's on every button that I've pushed so far
I can't turn it off, I can't walk away
The next time I hear that song play
I'm gonna do what I should've done long ago
Whoa, I'm gonna break the radio
Sparks are gonna fly out
The music's gonna die out
The DJ's gonna cry out loud

Chorus:

I hear it in the street, I hear it in the car
It's on every button that I've pushed so far
I can't turn it off, I can't walk away
The next time I hear that song play
I'm gonna do what I should've done long ago

Whoa, I'm gonna break the radio
Yes, I'm gonna break the radio
Whoa, I'm gonna break the radio
