

Ryan Harkrider "Hereafter"

Visit "Hereafter" on MotoLyrics.com

I drove down for the weekend on a Friday afternoon I've been burning up that highway chasing after you so, give me just an hour to try and change your mind and sit out on the front porch in that cool November night and if I'm standing at your front door will you let me in I've been waiting for a long time just so I could say

every evening hereafter
every evening hereafter baby every evening hereafter I will love you
every evening hereafter
every evening hereafter baby
every evening hereafter I will love you

I woke up right beside you, I've been holding you all night
and I kissed you on the shoulder in that early morning light and I'm leaving softly not to wake you up if you listen through the quiet just so I could say

every evening hereafter
every evening hereafter baby
every evening hereafter I will love you
every evening hereafter
every evening hereafter baby
every evening hereafter I will love you if I bring you flowers dyed a ruby red put them on the table and remember what I said

every moment hereafter
every moment hereafter baby every moment hereafter I will love you
every moment hereafter
every moment hereafter baby
every moment hereafter I will love you

