Just look what I've become,
There's so much left undone,
And I'm so afraid.
It seems that nothing's right,
Just how long can I fight?
And I'm so afraid.

And all these things they keep running me into the ground.
And all these things I keep telling myself out loud.
'Cause I can't pull myself back up,
Will you be there to hold me?
'Cause I don't feel like I'm strong enough,
And I don't wanna bring you down anymore.
No I don't wanna bring you down anymore.

The light never seems to shine,
And I can't seem to find, my way.
And somehow I'm runnin' blind,
I feel like I'm dragging you behind.
I'm sorry.

And all these things they keep running me into the ground.
And all these things I keep telling myself out loud.
'Cause I can't pull myself back up,
Will you be there to hold me?
'Cause I don't feel like I'm strong enough,
And I don't wanna bring you down anymore.

'Cause all these things they keep running me into the ground.
And all these things I keep telling myself out loud.
'Cause I can't pull myself back up,
Will you be there to hold me?
'Cause I don't feel like I'm strong enough,
And I don't wanna bring you down anymore.
No I don't wanna bring you down anymore.
I don't wanna bring you down anymore.
'Cause I don't wanna bring you down anymore.
